Anger grows in Japan after US Marine arrested over alleged killing of Okinawa woman

A US Marine was arrested for allegedly murdering a woman on Okinawa, triggering Prime Minister Takaichi's public condemnation in parliament and a formal diplomatic protest to Washington. The Washington Post reports public anger is intensifying on the island, where crimes involving US troops have been a recurring source of bilateral tension.

ECONOMY-BOJ

BOJ may signal underlying inflation has hit 2% goal, sources say

Sources cited by Reuters say the BOJ is preparing to formally declare that underlying inflation has reached its 2% goal, a milestone that would bolster the case for a December rate hike rather than an October move. Governor Ueda's remarks Tuesday did little to challenge market expectations that the October meeting will result in a hold at 1.25%.

As Japan's Population Shrinks, a City Is Accused of Padding Census Numbers

Japanese police are investigating how the city of Toyama allegedly padded its official census count with roughly 3,000 fictitious residents, the New York Times reports in a bylined story. The case surfaces as Japan's population continues to shrink and demographic data underpins fiscal-transfer and regional-development formulas.

Road budget scandal could knock Takaichi's ambitious agenda off course

Agriculture Minister Kazuo Yana admitted cutting road-improvement budgets for two municipalities whose mayors opposed him in February's election, retracted the remarks, and apologized — triggering cross-party calls for a parliamentary investigation. The episode adds early pressure on Prime Minister Takaichi's fiscal and reform agenda at the outset of the extraordinary session.

The New Nixon Shock? Why Japan Fears a Trump-Xi Deal

The Diplomat examines why Tokyo is wary that a direct US-China deal brokered by President Trump could sideline Japanese interests, drawing on the historical symbolism of the 1972 Nixon opening. The piece contextualizes Prime Minister Takaichi's dual push — calling China 'an important neighbor' while simultaneously pressing Washington — as an attempt to avoid being left out of great-power bargaining.

REGIONAL PRESSURE WATCH WATCH

Heavy — 41 items (22 DPRK, 13 BOJ, 5 Chief Cabinet Sec, 1 China MOFA)

CHINA

Global Times published a piece characterizing Prime Minister Takaichi's 'important neighbor' framing of China as masking 'continued provocation,' continuing Beijing's coordinated messaging campaign against Tokyo's regional posture. No new China Coast Guard or PLA activity near the Senkakus was reported in today's articles.

NORTH KOREA

North Korea's hypersonic intermediate-range missile test — in which Pyongyang claims AI-guided evasive flight over 1,000 km, exceeding South Korean and Japanese tracking estimates — continues to generate analytical coverage; Pyongyang specifically claimed the weapon's 'skip points' expose gaps in Japanese and South Korean tracking systems, a direct challenge to the trilateral missile-defense architecture. South Korea, the US, and Japan shared tracking data.

RUSSIA

TASS reported Russia's position that Japan 'continues to provoke deterioration of relations,' maintaining Moscow's declaratory campaign linking Tokyo's defense buildup to bilateral tensions. No new air or naval incursions near Hokkaido or the Northern Territories were reported today.

Senkaku / ECS: No new China Coast Guard intrusion or PLA activity near the Senkakus was reported in today's articles; the baseline pattern of near-daily CCG presence in the contiguous zone continues as the standing status.

"skip points expose gaps in South Korean, Japanese tracking"

North Korea (KCNA, via Stripes) · North Korea says missile 'skip points' expose gaps in South Korean, Japanese tracking — stripes.com

Bottom line: North Korea's AI-guided hypersonic IRBM test — with Pyongyang's explicit claim that 'skip points' defeat Japanese and South Korean tracking — is the primary escalatory signal today; the US-Japan-ROK information-sharing response was immediate but the capability gap claim, if validated, has direct implications for extended deterrence credibility. Watch for any formal MOD or Joint Staff assessment of the missile's flight profile.
