Takaichi mentions Okinawa murder in parliament speech as U.S. military weighs response

A US Marine stationed at Futenma was arrested on suspicion of strangling a 39-year-old Japanese woman at a Naha hotel and stealing her wallet and backpack. Prime Minister Takaichi referenced the killing in her Diet policy address and the US side was weighing a period of mourning among other response measures, according to the Japan Times.

ECONOMY-BOJ

BOJ to declare underlying inflation has reached 2%, sources say

Sources told the Japan Times the Bank of Japan will formally express in its next quarterly Outlook for Economic Activity and Prices, due as early as October 30, that underlying inflation has reached 2% on a sustained basis. The declaration would mark a policy-relevant threshold as markets assess the pace of further rate hikes from the current 1.25% policy rate.

DPRK

North Korea says Kim oversaw hypersonic missile drill

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un personally oversaw a hypersonic intermediate-range strategic missile drill, with KCNA claiming the weapon flew 1,000 km using AI guidance and evasive 'skip-glide' flight profiles that Pyongyang said exposed gaps in South Korean and Japanese tracking. South Korea, the United States, and Japan convened trilateral information-sharing in response.

Takaichi tells markets to 'rest assured' over Japan spending plans

Prime Minister Takaichi sought to reassure bond investors that her 'proactive fiscal policy' agenda would not entail uncontrolled new issuance, delivering the message as 10-year Japanese government bond yields reached a fresh high. The FT noted the statement came as markets weighed the credibility of her dual commitment to growth spending and fiscal discipline.

'Unwelcome and unsafe': Why Japanese companies are retreating from China at a historic rate

CNBC reports Japanese companies are exiting China at a record pace, driven by a diplomatic freeze following Prime Minister Takaichi's Taiwan remarks and a slowing Chinese economy that has forced businesses to reassess their presence. The exodus compounds pressure on bilateral economic ties already strained by China's sustained diplomatic-signaling campaign against Tokyo.

CHINA

China's Foreign Ministry continued its deliberate protocol slight of referring to Prime Minister Takaichi by name only — dropping her title — continuing a coordinated diplomatic-messaging campaign documented across the past two weeks. Separately, Japanese companies are exiting China at a record pace, per CNBC, with the diplomatic freeze triggered by Takaichi's Taiwan remarks cited as a primary driver alongside China's slowing economy.

NORTH KOREA

North Korea conducted a hypersonic intermediate-range strategic missile drill personally overseen by Kim Jong Un, with Pyongyang claiming via KCNA that the AI-guided weapon flew 1,000 km — exceeding South Korean and Japanese tracking estimates by approximately 300 km — and executed evasive 'skip-glide' flight profiles that North Korea said exposed gaps in Seoul and Tokyo's detection systems. South Korea, the United States, and Japan convened trilateral information-sharing in response.

RUSSIA

TASS reported Prime Minister Takaichi stated Japan will continue to pursue a course toward signing a peace treaty with Russia — a public diplomatic signal delivered at the opening of the extraordinary Diet session — while Japan's recently imposed shadow-fleet sanctions (the first since Putin's visit to a disputed Northern Territory island) remain in effect.
